Harnes-Burvell.

A very preuly marriage was celebrated at "Wainut Hill," the home of Mr. and Mrs. George I, Burwell, on Wednesday, June 5, at half-past 3 o'clock, when their daughter, Anne Young, became the bride of Norman Spencer Barnes. Mrs. William Edward Norris sang "O, Promise Me," while the guests were assembling, and Miss Mary Henderson played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" at the entry of the bridat party. The house was decorated for the ceremony in plak roses and evergreens.

nd evergreens, Miss Fannie Gayle Burwell, who was Miss Fannie Gayle Burwell, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore pink sutin trimmed in dewdroe chiffon and embroidered in coses. She carried a houquet of La France roses. Miss Georgia Burwell was bridssmaid, and were an embroidered marquisette freek trimmed in shadow lace. She carried a houquet similar to that of the maid of honor. R. L. Barnes, of this city, was encomman. The ring was carried in a rose by little Alice Taylor, who wore a hand-embroidered dress of white mulle with pink ribbons.

The bride entered with her uncle, William M. Toylor, who also gave her away, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, W. Bruce-Barnes. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. H. Templeman, of Richmond. The bride wore a gown of white satin appliqued with roses and trimmed in real lace and pearle. She carried a bouquet of Bride roses, and her veil was arranged with a coronat of crange blossoms.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes left at once for an extended trib North, and on their return will reside in Wilson, N. C., where the groom is engaged in business.
